14.15. Key terms in the EFS collection relating to steps in the extension provision of finance are defined as follows, given in the approximate sequence in which the steps occur:

Application	A genuine application for finance made by a potential borrower. It includes: internal refinances. For housing, report only refinancing. Report the total amount by which the credit limit is proposed to be/has been increased of finance applied for.
---------------------------	--

	It excludes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • applications for pre-approval of finance.
Received (application)	An application for finance is received by the ADI or RFC when sufficient information and/or relevant documentation hashave been submitted to allow for the application to be initially assessed. -It includes: any applications subsequently withdrawn or cancelled in the same reporting period the application is received.
Approved (application)	An application is approved if a firm offer of finance is made (whether the size and terms of the loan are the same as requested in the application or different).
Declined (application)	An application is declined if a decision is made by the ADI or RFC to not offer any finance. Include applications where a decision was made not to provide finance because insufficient information was provided by the potential borrower or the application is judged to have lapsed.
Borrower-accepted commitment (commitment)	Means a firm offer to provide finance that has been accepted by the borrower. A borrower-accepted commitment exists for a loan or finance lease once an application has been approved, a loan/finance lease contract or letter of offer has been issued to the borrower, and the borrower has accepted the offer. For housing, a borrower-accepted commitment to lend occurs only after the residential property has been found and valued, mortgage insurance arranged (where relevant) and the borrower has accepted the offer. For bills, a borrower-accepted commitment occurs when the bill is accepted. For commercial paper, a borrower-accepted commitment occurs when the commercial paper is purchased directly from the issuer. Exclude purchases of commercial paper on the secondary market. It includes: agreements to increase the credit limit of an existing loan contract (for example, as part of an internal refinance).
Funded	A loan or finance lease is considered funded once any portion of the funds is made available for the borrower to draw down according to the terms of the contract. This will occur after there is a borrower-accepted commitment to provide finance. For fixed-term loans and finance leases, the entire value of the loan or finance lease is to be reported as funded in the period in which the credit is first made available to the borrower (whether or not it is drawn down within that period). If the loan is disbursed over a period of time (multiple drawdowns) then report only the portion made available to the borrower for the first time that period (whether or not it is drawn down within that period).

	For revolving credit facilities, the entire value of the credit limit is reported as funded in the period in which the credit is first made available to the borrower (whether or not it is drawn down within that period). For internal refinances, report the total value refinanced, not just the increase in the credit limit. Values should be reported Report values gross of offset account balances and of redraw facilities.
Drawdown / drawn down	Once a borrower-accepted commitment to provide finance has been funded, the approved amount of finance may be drawn and used by the borrower according to the terms of the contract. Any amounts drawn down by the borrower are included in credit outstanding from the period in which they are drawn (and not the period in which they were committed).
Credit outstanding	Once a borrower-accepted commitment has been drawn down, the remaining value that the borrower must repay – the current loan or finance lease balance outstanding – is the amount of credit outstanding. The Report the balance should be reported gross of collective provisions and individual provisions. Exclude finance that has been written off. For fixed-term loans and finance leases, report the amount balance owed by the borrower(s) at the end of the reporting period including capitalised interest or fees. The balance credit outstanding is the original commitment less amortisation and other any repayments, including plus any redraw facility balances (i.e. subtract amounts available in redraw facilities from the value of credit outstanding) drawn, but excluding any deposit balances in offset accounts (i.e. report gross of offset account balances). For revolving credit facilities, report the drawn amount. For bills, report the amount repayable by the borrower. For commercial paper, report amounts repayable by the borrower for all such securities held, whether or not they were purchased directly from the issuer or in the secondary market.
Credit outstanding, net of offset	Credit outstanding net of offset account balances is the value of credit outstanding for finance net of any linked offset account balances.

account balances	For fixed-term loans and finance leases, report the amount owed by the borrower(s) at the end of the reporting period (including capitalised interest or fees). The balancecredit outstanding is the original commitment less amortisation and other any repayments, including plus any redraw facility balances (i.e. subtract amounts available in redraw facilities from the value of credit outstanding) and drawn, less any deposit balances in offset accounts (i.e. report net of offset account balances). If the value in the offset account exceeds the value of the loan, then treat credit outstanding as zero for that loan. For revolving credit facilities, report the drawn amount.
Credit limit	Means the maximum amount of funds available to the borrower as at the period end date without additional authorisation or approval. This amount should includeInclude outstanding balances (including capitalised interest or fees) and any other funds that can be drawn without additional approval by the lender in this amount. For fixed-term loans, report the amortised value of credit outstandingthe loan, gross of balances in redraw facilities and offset accounts (i.e. redraw facilities and do not subtract offset account balances should not be subtracted from the loan balance) unless otherwise directed. For revolving credit, any amounts in a net-deposit position should do not add to the credit limit. For margin lending, the credit limit should reflectreflects the maximum that the borrower can draw down based on the loan conditions (such as the notional credit limit and the maximum allowable loan-to-valuation ratio) and the value of the security underlying the loan.
